

OLD FOLKS' DAY
AT THE LAGOONResort Was Crowded Yesterday
by Aged People.

YOUNG AGAIN FOR THE TIME

DANCED, SANG SONGS AND WERE SERVED WITH LUNCH.

SILVERY-HAIRED men and women who have long ago passed the half-century mark three years and care aside yesterday and rolled back the day away at the Lagoon, when Davis county entertained the old people of the Salt Lake stake.

Twenty-five hundred people, many of whose active lives have been spent in a former generation, swarmed to the place to participate in the festivities. They danced and sang and were children again for the day. Lake County, Davis county entertained the old people of the Salt Lake stake.

The afternoon was spent in songs by the "Old Folks' Choir," composed of twenty of the visitors. Speeches were also made, in which were told the stories of long ago, when the large majority of the residents in attendance enjoyed the rude festivities of frontier life. Vivid recollections were recalled by the gathering, and the speakers dwelt on the themes which each had experienced.

Lunch was served at noon by a bevy of pretty girls of Davis county. Fourteen hundred sat around the tables at one time and the long sheds were taxed to their capacity. Another lunch was served late in the afternoon. East Bountiful entertained 580; Centerville, 170; West Bountiful, 140; South Bountiful, 170; Farmington, 320; Clinton, 100; Syracuse, 100; West Layton, 110; Kaysville, 320; Layton, 170; Hooper, 100.

Oldest People Present.

Large rosettes, varying in color according to age, were worn by the guests. White indicated an age past 50, while blue showed that the wearer had passed 60 years, and red rosettes were worn by those who had reached 70. Few wore the white, but among those who wore the other colors was Mrs. Adella Carter of Bountiful, the oldest woman on the grounds and the object of kindly interest to everyone present. Mrs. Carter, in spite of her 84 years, walked over the grounds and thoroughly enjoyed the day. She is as strong and sprightly as many a girl of 20, and laughingly answered all questions which were asked by the inquisitive.

Second to her in point of years was Mrs. Phoebe Atkinson of Woods Cross, who wants only eight years to have reached the century mark. With a number of her children and grandchildren she enjoyed the day and with Mrs. Carter won the prizes of two rocking chairs, which were offered to the two oldest women in attendance.

Among the men who were in the white was John S. Smith of Kaysville, who was the oldest man there and who has lived ninety-three years. Next was Benjamin Beer, 89 years, who failed to induce some of his younger friends to join in a Scottish reel. He is the oldest survivor of the famous Edward Martin's handcart company.

With the reckless, rollicksome abandon of school children the crowd cheered the quaint dances which were given in the pavilion in the afternoon. In the circle which was left open by the crowd, old men and women danced as gracefully and as lightly as they did half a century before. Among the men who won the prizes of the dancing were Captain Thomas Dobson. Carrying the weight of 65 years, he danced with the energy and grace of a boy.

MAY GO ON RESERVATIONS.

Sheriffs May Pursue Criminals There to Effect Their Arrest.

Attorney General Breiden yesterday rendered an opinion in effect that the sheriff of a county whose geographical limits embrace an Indian reservation has not only the power to pursue and arrest a criminal who flees to the reservation, but in case of murder or the reservation, where the murderer is a white man, it is the sheriff's duty to proceed to the scene of crime, and after arrest bring the murderer to the county seat for trial.

BOYS WERE DRUNK.

Those Who Attacked Mr. Moyle Are Placed Under Arrest.

The lads who attacked the passengers from the last Salt Lake train Wednesday night and assaulted Janitor Bowen of the High school were captured by the police yesterday and brought to face a charge of assault and battery today. The boys who are under arrest gave their names as Fred Keith, Charles Davis, John Shepherd, H. Bishop, A. Chug, J. Schuter and Charles Parker. Mr. Moyle, who was assaulted by the boys when attempting to protect his father-in-law, gave the officers a description of the lads yesterday morning and the detectives recognized one of them as a person who had been in jail before. The lad was found at his home and under questioning he told the names of his companions. Before the day was over all of the boys had been landed in jail.

The boys admitted that they were the ones wanted and explained that their actions were due to too much liquor which they had been imbibing. They will appear in police court today. Numerous complaints of such conduct as these boys were guilty of have come to the police and the officers are intent on seeing that the passengers from the late trains are afforded protection.

THE SALES OF LIGHTS TO BLAZEElks Let Contract For Illuminating the Streets.

EXPENSE WILL BE $4,000

SET PIECES AND DECORATIONS ON A GRAND SCALE.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Elks' reunion last evening, the contract for illuminating the streets of the business section of the city during the convention was let to the Salt Lake Electric Supply company. The only other considered bid was from the Intermountain Electric company. Both called for an expenditure of $4,000, the limit set by the illuminating committee in its request for bids.

The specifications submitted by the Salt Lake company call for almost 4,000 incandescent lights, several hundred of which will be used in three set pieces. The committee was empowered to confer with the company, looking to the election of five or six set pieces, to further beautify the display. The set pieces accompanying the bid provide for an elk, twenty feet high, outlined with 250 globes; the words "Welcome, B. P. O. E.", 383 globes; and an enormous American flag, using 200 globes.

The other decorations consist of festoons to be strung across and lengthwise of the streets to be illuminated. On West Temple between Third South and Second South the festoons will run parallel with and over the sidewalks, strung along the electric light poles. Between Second South and First South they will be strung half way across the street, to the tall poles. From First South to South Temple the string of globes will be hung clear across the thoroughfare, being draped from the high poles in the center to the shorter ones on the sidewalks.

Festoons on Main Street.

On Main street there will be a series of double festoons, one eight feet above the other, stretching from sidewalk to sidewalk, rising in a graceful loop to the crossstreets of the high poles in the center. Lengthwise of the street, festoons will be suspended from the same poles.

On State street the festoons will extend from Third South to South Temple, on the poles in the center of that thoroughfare. On South Temple the general effect will be the same. On First South, Second South and Third South, the strings of incandescent lights will be suspended from the high poles in the center to the short ones on the sidewalks, and up and down the street will be other connecting the sidewalk poles together.

With the exception of the globes in the set pieces, which will be of eight candle power, all lights will be sixteen candle. All kinds of colored globes will be used indiscriminately in the general illumination, to make the whole effect of the rainbow. Several communications were read from officers of the Mormon church to the effect that no charge would be made for the use of the tabernacle for Aug. 15, for the famous concert, which the Elks propose to give, for the benefit of those who enjoy that kind of an entertainment. The courtesy of the church in placing that edifice at the disposal of the executive committee was an unexpected favor, which was freely commented upon during the meeting, and duly appreciated. Professor J. J. McClellan, the organist, who will have charge of the concert, wrote that the full choir would be present upon that occasion, and sing the opening and closing numbers. He was given instructions to procure talented vocalists for the concert.

WILL BE BURIED TODAY.

Funerals of the Victims of Double Tragedy to Take Place.

The funeral of the murderer and suicide will be held at his parents' home, while the service over the body of Mrs. Hensley will be held at the Twelfth ward meeting house.

ARE POOR LAWMAKERS

Supreme Court Declares Many Ohio Laws Unconstitutional.

Columbus, O., June 26.—An extra session of the Ohio legislature seems certain to straighten out a situation created by the supreme court's holding a number of important laws to be invalid. The court today held that the Cleveland city government is unconstitutional and also the special law enacted for the city of Toledo, taking the control of the police out of Mayor Jones' hands, is void. The court also sustained the contention of Trauger that there is a vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor. Lieutenant Governor Nipper was appointed probate judge of Hamilton county, and President Pro Tem Archer of the senate was supposed to succeed to the lieutenant governorship. The court also sustained the validity of the Royer act, which limits the jurisdiction of the supreme court and takes away 95 per cent of its jurisdiction in appeal cases.

TO PURSUE CONVICTS

Idaho Sheriffs Will Hunt For Tracy and Merrill—Start
From Kelso.

Portland, Ore., June 26.—Deputy Sheriff Williams and Ideman, both from Shoshone county, Idaho, arrived in Portland this morning for the purpose of taking up the hunt for Tracy and Merrill, the convicts and murderers. Their present intention is to work apart from other men who are in the field, although, as they are well acquainted with Guard Carson from Walla Walla penitentiary and know something about hunting with bloodhounds, they may fall in with him when they reach the country where they will begin work.

Word was received from Kelso, Wash., at the sheriff's office today that Sheriff Huntington of Cowlitz county had left that place this morning for the ground where it is believed Tracy and Merrill are located, and Williams and Ideman decided to take the train for Kelso and start out as soon as possible.

MR. HAWLEY IN TOWN.

Former Banking Man Pays Visit to His Old Home.

Cyrus L. Hawley, formerly paying teller at the Utah National bank, is in the city from Chicago. Since last fall he has been at El Paso and places in New Mexico and Arizona for his health, and he expects to remain here several weeks to attend to some business matters and to still further regain his health. Late in the afternoon he was in the city. He has had malaria. Yesterday many of Mr. Hawley's old friends greeted him at the star and told him in believing that this place is the best in the world for a summer's vacation.

Not a few of Mr. Hawley's old acquaintances believed him to be dead. This was not surprising after the San Francisco papers had published an account a couple of years ago of him dropping dead on a street in that city from internal hemorrhage. The error was corrected by the Chicago star in stating that after he had been mustered out as a sergeant in Utah battery C, he gave his diary, which contained accounts of his movements, even to his death, to his brother, C. M. Hawley. This diary was in possession of the latter when he was found dead.

CHOIR AT THE LAKE.

The tabernacle choir, at its rehearsal last night, completed arrangements for its day at Saltair tomorrow, which will be in celebration of Professor Evan Stephens' birthday. It has long been the custom of the choir to celebrate its leader's birthday with an singing and programme at the lake, and although he is across the waters, neither he nor the day will be forgotten this time.

The members of the organization will flock to the resort in the afternoon and a good time is planned for. At 7:30 in the evening a splendid banquet will be laid on the lunch floor of the pavilion and the members of the choir will enjoy a feast. An impromptu programme of music will be rendered by the choir after the banquet.

The Vienna Cafe will reopen Saturday morning with a new and up-to-date kitchen, and the proprietors promise better service than ever.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

President's Decision in Waller Court martial Case Anxiously Awaited.

Washington, June 26.—The record of the court martial proceedings in the case of Major L. W. T. Waller of the marine corps, who was acquitted of the charge of illegally killing Filipino prisoners, was received at the war department today. It will be considered by Secretary Root in connection with the review of the testimony and findings of the court martial in the case of Brigadier General J. H. Smith. The charges upon which both the officers named were tried arose out of the same transactions in the conduct of the Samar campaign. The Waller case was closed with the approval of the action of the court martial which acquitted him, but the Smith case is still open. The president's decision in the case and the attention it has received in congress in the debates on the Philippine bill, the action of the president in the matter is awaited with more interest than in the case of Waller. The impression prevails that he will improve the opportunity to express his views on the conduct of military affairs in the Philippines.

ON IMPERILED SHIP.

Fears Entertained For Mr. and Mrs.
Lee Little in Alaskan Waters.

According to information from Butte, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Little, formerly a well known couple of this city, are on board the imperiled ship Portland, which when last seen was drifting into the Arctic regions, held fast in the floes of ice that are moving in that direction. Mrs. Little took passage on the Portland April 24 for a trip to Alaska, partly on business and partly for pleasure. It is feared that neither they nor their companions on the ill-fated ship will ever be seen again.

The steamer was last sighted on June 3 near the Bering straits by the steamer Nome City. The officers of this vessel reported that the steamer was apparently from solidly in the ice and was drifting rapidly towards the Arctic regions.

The steamer is built of iron, but her bulk would crush like egg shells should she be caught between approaching floes of ice. A revenue cutter has been dispatched to aid the passengers on the distressed ship, but it is feared that the cutter will not be able to reach the steamer or give any aid to its passengers.

Mr. Little is a native of Salt Lake and the son of former Mayor Feramorz Little. For the past few years, however, he has resided in Butte, and Alaska. He was one of the first to bring the news of the gold discoveries in Nome to Butte.

STATE NEWS

SCANDINAVIAN REUNION.

They Lovingly Remember Native
Land in Song and Story.

Mt. Pleasant, June 26.—The Scandinavian reunion held here last Tuesday was a grand success, and the managers can feel a sense of satisfaction and self-congratulation. Crowds of people were in attendance from all parts of the county, some coming by team and some by rail. The assembly hall in which they met was very tastefully decorated. The flags of three northern countries were displayed in an artistic manner, while around and above them was placed Old Glory.

The meetings of the forenoon and afternoon were taken up by addresses from leading Scandinavians, both local and visiting, interspersed now and then with music and song.

The exercises of the evening were of the nature of a concert, and they were certainly highly appreciated by all in attendance.

While all the Scandinavians are thorough Americans and give their first allegiance to this country, it was inspiring to see how lovingly they remember their native land. The programme of the evening was as follows:

Singing by Spring City choir; prayer by Dean Jacobson; plans solo by Mrs. Mary Christensen; duet, the Danish national hymn, by Waldemar and Peter Christensen; by William Bittimus of Fairview; solo by Emily Larsen of Gunnison; address by George Christensen; comic recitation by C. N. Lund, Jr.; comic reading by C. K. Hansen and some by rail. The evening was closed by the orchestra; solo by I. E. Jorgensen.

Many of the visitors from neighboring towns left for home immediately after the exercises, while the others returned on the train the following day.

ROBBERY AT VERNAL.

The County Treasurer's Office Broken Into With Small Loss.

Vernal, June 26.—The county treasurer's office at the court house was raided by burglars last night, who made an effort to work the combination to the vault that contains the state and county funds on hand. A drawer in the treasurer's desk, in which were various titles were kept, was broken open and $1.50 in stamps taken, which was all the robbers got for their trouble. The treasurer's office was made through a window on the west side of the building. The tracks of the burglars were clearly visible, and two persons were engaged in the affair, one wearing a No. 7 and the other a No. 9 shoe. The officers succeeded in following the tracks three-fourths of a mile, but they were eventually lost. No arrests have been made. The robbers no doubt expected to find considerable money around loose, but the fact of the matter is that they would find very little, even had they gained entrance to the vault, as Treasurer Davis never lets his cash pile up and makes remittances to the bank every few days, and advances any chances of a successful robbery.

Louis Curry, agency trader at Ouray, Colo., yesterday advised that he had for the mountains today in company with H. Calvert of the Elk hotel, on a fishing excursion. He was accompanied by the reservation being opened at an early date. Mr. Curry stated that he found that the great majority of the Indians were much opposed to giving up their land and some smooth work would be necessary to obtain their consent. He expressed the opinion, however, that despite the negative attitude of the Indians the matter would be finally adjusted and an agreement secured if the negotiations are carried on with that end in view. Mr. Curry has been trader at Ouray for many years and while his business is principally with the Uncompaghres, he has a wide acquaintance among the Ute and White River Utes as well.
